BIOGRAPHY OF

The Laborers’ International Union of North America Local 83 is located in Portsmouth, Ohio. Originally called the International Hod Carriers’, Building the Common Laborers’ Union of America, the union has a rich history, and has been affiliated with AFL-CIO, the Laborers’ District Council, the Ohio State Building and Construction Trades Council, the South Central Ohio Building and Construction Trades Council, and the Laborers’ Home Association.

SCOPE AND CONTENTS OF THE COLLECTION

The records of Local 83 are fairly complete and contain minutes of the regular meetings, correspondence, agreements, constitutions and bylaws, financial reports, mileage and expense reports, payroll deductions, unemployment and compensation records, NIRB cases, IRS statements, and publications from various affiliate organizations.
The minutes of the meetings are extensive, covering from 1940 to 1947 completely, then sporadic dates in 1959, 1960, 1964, and 1971 to 1973.

The correspondence file is large, extending from 1944-1972, and is arranged chronologically from the national level to the local level. Because correspondence of 1944-1948 is not extensive, it has been placed in one file. The correspondence from affiliate organizations has been placed in the General Business file unless large enough to warrant a separate folder.

The agreements, constitutions, and bylaws have likewise been arranged chronologically in descending order from the national to local level. The financial records are extensive and contain cash receipts summaries from 1954-1959 as well as quarterly financial reports from 1953-1972, in addition to monthly reports from 1957-1972.

Charges brought against local union officials have been arranged chronologically as have been the NLRB cases for hiring malpractice files against the union.
