BIOGRAPHY OF

The Tri-County Community Action Agency was formed in 1964. Community Action provided programs and support systems that allowed low-income residents the opportunity to improve their lives. It also supported low-income residents by informing them of proposed laws and rules, which affect their lives, and by giving them the chance to voice their opinions. There were more than thirty programs operated, which were divided into five major groups: Community Services, Child Development, Job Training, Economic Development, and Aging Services. Community Action was governed by a board of trustees made up of public officials, private organizations, and low-income residents.
